

Report - Youth Worker Training

Objectives

1. Understand the youth work profession and the other related professions.
2. Communicate, inform, empower and engage young people
3. Create and follow for himself or in the benefit of others a personal/professional development plan
4. Understand the forms of learning and efficiently use non formal education tools
5. Understand the multiple intelligences and adapt the learning methods used accordingly
6. Use efficient communication methods and thus easily overcome communication barriers
7. Use conflict management techniques
8. Understand and capitalize the benefits of group dynamic
9. Understand and promote cooperation inside a community

Learning outcomes

1. Define and understand what a youth worker is
2. Understand the EU legal strategy in sustaining and promoting youth work
3. Know the profile of a youth worker and the opportunities and challenges this is facing
4. Make a difference between the youth work as a profession in comparison with other professions
5. Know and understand the responsibilities of a youth worker and its special roles in the

Erasmus+ programme

6. Understand and deal with intra and inter group dynamics
7. Understand what communication is and the forms of it
8. Identify and overcome barriers of effective communication

9. Understand the multiple intelligences theory and adapt the learning methods used accordingly
10. Understand the learning process and the forms of learning
11. Understand and deal with diversity management
12. Understand and use conflict management techniques
13. Create and follow a personal and professional development plan
14. Cooperate and promote/maintain cooperation inside a community
15. Communicate, inform, empower, engage young people

During the "Youth Worker Training", the volunteers, with the support of the trainer, have been guided throughout the field of youth work and have discovered day by day, by means of common and individual desk researches, debates, role plays, different constructive games and presentations new information which have contributed to achieving the previously mentioned objectives of the training. Based on the revealed, transmitted and identified information, the volunteers have achieved the presented learning outcomes.

The previous, personal and professional experiences of each of the volunteers have been highly valued. Due to these, the trainer has given the opportunity to all of the volunteers to bring their personal and professional input to the training and share the knowledge they have with their colleagues.

Erasmus+

Millennium
Center

